THE 10¢ 1861 TYPE I STAMP ON COVER

WILLIAM WEISMANN

Students of the 1861 issue long have regarded the 10¢ Type I stamp used on cover as a scarce item. To date, there has been no effort to list the existing 10¢ Type I covers. As a result, comments on scarcity are based on observation and seat-of-the-pants estimates. In this article I present a listing of 10¢ Type I covers which I hope will stimulate response and expansion of the tabulation of known 10¢ Type I covers. In preparing the accompanying tables, over one thousand auction catalogues were reviewed, as well as several other sources. The records and library of the Philatelic Foundation also were utilized. I acknowledge my gratitude to the Philatelic Foundation and its staff for their assistance.

According to Elliott Perry, the 10¢ Type I stamp was discovered by W. Kelsey Hall who, after removing the 10¢ stamps from a correspondence to Canada, noticed the two types. This removal may be a good example why classic covers are outnumbered by used off-cover stamps. Brookman estimated the quantity of Type I stamps issued at 500,000. Using Dr. Richard Searing's "rule of thumb" that one cover survives for every 5,000 stamps issued, one would expect to find approximately 100 Type I covers in existence.

This research has uncovered a total of 122 Type I covers. The total is divided into three tables. Table I lists 44 domestic uses; Table II lists 22 uses to Canada; and Table III lists 56 uses to other foreign destinations. For ease of use, Tables I and II are alphabetized by origin, and Table III is alphabetized by country of destination.

A summary of the data is presented in Table IV under origin, destination, and year of use. Covers originated from 51 different cities in the United States. Covers were sent to 16 different foreign destinations. Of the 79 covers with identifiable year dates, 74 were mailed in 1861 or 1862. The data seem to confirm the accepted theory that the 10¢ Type I stamps were issued in limited quantities from late 1861 into 1862.

Figure 1 is a cover franked by a 10¢ Type I, 10¢ Type II, two 3¢ 1861s (Scott 65), and a 1¢ 1861. This is one of only seven covers listed as bearing both types of 10¢ stamps. The stamps paid the 27 cents per ½ ounce Belgian Closed Mail rate to Belgium. The cover was mailed at Milwaukee, Wisconsin, on December 22, 1862, and the New York exchange office credited 7 cents to Belgium on December 27, 1862.

Figure 2 is a cover franked by a pair of 10¢ Type I stamps. These stamps, if mailed in 1863 or later, paid two times the 10 cents per ½ ounce American Packet via Panama rate to Guatemala. The black "4" is a double rate internal due marking of 4 reales. The cover was mailed from Wyandotte, Kansas, on February 17.

Figure 3 is a folded letter franked by two 10¢ Type I stamps and a 1¢ 1861. These stamps paid the 21 cents per ½ ounce British Open Mail by American Packet rate to India. The manuscript black "8" is an 8 pence (16 cents) due marking. The reverse bears a black "BOSTON AM. PKT., OCT. 25", red "LONDON E C, NO. 9, 61", and octagonal black "CALCUTTA STEAMLETTER, 1861 DEC. 14" containing a manuscript "6" (6 annas due, approximately 18 cents). This particular Goddard correspondence folded letter from the original find has never appeared at auction.

In conclusion, I am convinced that this listing represents a very healthy "chunk" of the existing 10¢ Type I covers. I am convinced also that the readers of the Chronicle will add

TRANSIENT PRINTED MATTER RATES, 1860-63; THE STAR DIE WRAPPERS RICHARD B. GRAHAM

The transient rate for printed matter is probably one of the least understood rates of U.S. classic postal history. It is readily confused with carrier, drop letter, and circular rates and the fact that covers reflecting it were seldom saved, being essentially newspaper wrappers, makes those covers both interesting and scarce.

Figure 1. A patriotic envelope used as a wrapper, apparently to mail a newspaper from New York to Fort Wayne in April of 1861.

The rate was intended to apply to periodical printed matter "not sent from or by the office of publication." Which is to say, during the Civil War, the rate was used by many to mail the home newspapers to those away from home in the service. Apparently the first mention of the rate was in the Act of March 3, 1847, which contained a phrase concerning newspapers "not sent from the office of publication" and set the rate for such at 3ϕ each. Without attempting an exhaustive review of the transient printed matter rates and requirements for such between then and 1860, it should be noted the basic requirement was that the material had to be sent in an open-ended wrapper so that it could be inspected. The inspection was for the purpose of detecting any written letters or other "first class" material. The only writing permitted on such printed matter was that paragraphs, to which a sender wished to call a recipient's attention, could be marked off.
